Access+ Announces the Release of Dixit Universe Access+: An Inclusive and Innovative Board Game

Guyancourt, June 17, 2024 – Access+, a pioneering adapted board game studio, is proud to announce the release of Dixit Universe Access+, the fourth game in its product line dedicated to individuals living with cognitive impairments. This new game, derived from the renowned Dixit franchise, is specifically designed to be accessible to a wide audience through adaptations of its materials and rules.

Dixit Universe Access+: A poetic and inclusive adventure

Dixit Universe Access+ offers a brand-new journey into the Dixit world, with mechanics adapted to the cognitive abilities of the players. This new version features a large game board for better readability and cards divided into two levels of difficulty. It offers two modes of play, cooperative and competitive, to suit everyone's preferences.

To play, either individually or in teams, participants draw a Word card and then vote for the illustrations they believe match. In addition to having beautiful illustrations, this game activates several cognitive functions.

A game with multiple cognitive and social benefits

“Dixit Universe Access+ reflects our commitment to making the joy of board games accessible to everyone, regardless of their cognitive abilities. This game embodies our vision of inclusive play, where every player can participate and have fun,” stated Sarah Favaron, Head of the Access+ studio.

Dixit Universe Access+ engages speech, mental imagery, and short-term memory functions, among others.

The scientific analyses included in the game booklet are a valuable resource for practitioners, caregivers and loved ones, enhancing the therapeutic aspect of the game.

By drawing a Word card and voting for the matching illustrations, players also benefit from an experience rich in social interactions.
