

Trace Your Bus Routes Through 1920s Paris

A new destination in the Ticket to Ride Cities line: PARIS!

France – February 2, 2024 – Ticket to Ride: Paris, the sixth release in Alan R. Moon's "Cities" series, will be available on March 29, 2024. Immerse yourself in the glamorous Paris of the Roaring Twenties. Hop on an open-top bus, travel down the Champs-Élysées, admire the Eiffel Tower, and end your day enjoying a picturesque sunset from a charming terrace in Montmartre—all while collecting victory points!

This line in the Ticket to Ride series consists of standalone games that are shorter and more compact than the classic edition. Following New York, London, Amsterdam, San Francisco, and Berlin, players will chart routes in a new capital city! In Ticket to Ride: Paris, players race to visit the city's most iconic locations and complete their Destination Tickets. The winning player will skillfully navigate Paris's bus network on this unique new map.

In terms of game mechanics, Ticket to Ride: Paris introduces a new twist that doesn't add complexity: players must collect blue, white, and red cards to form the French flag and earn extra victory points. This challenge adds excitement to completing destinations and keeps the suspense until the very end of the game!

These new challenges offer strategic choices that are accessible to beginners but will be particularly appreciated by experienced players.

Ticket to Ride: Paris is one of the best ways to dive into the world of Ticket to Ride. The game is designed for players aged 8 and up, with simple rules that the whole family can quickly learn. Take it on the go and enjoy a complete Ticket to Ride experience in just 15 minutes, whether you're playing at home or at a bar with friends.

Ticket to Ride: Paris will be available starting March 29, 2024, with a suggested retail price of €22.99 / $24.99.
