The Shadowlands

To the south of Rokugan lie the Shadowlands, a blighted realm born of a fallen god's hatred and torment. For a thousand years, its denizens have assailed the Emerald Empire.

When the divine founders of the Great Clans fell from the heavens, one of their number was lost. Fu Leng's fall tore a rent in the mortal realm so great that he fell to the darkest depths of the underworld, into the Realm of Torment. From this festering pit, evil seeped and blighted the land, corrupting many of the creatures that dwelled within. Fu Leng claimed this realm as his own, from which to wage war upon the siblings he believed had forsaken him. While Fu Leng was eventually defeated, the threat of the Shadowlands remains.
