How to play

When playing, family and friends take turns as the storyteller. The storyteller rolls all 9 cubes. Begin with 'Once Upon a Time in the Wizarding World' and tell a story that links together all 9 face-up images. Start with the first image that catches your attention. Use three cubes for the beginning, three for the middle and three for the end of the story. There is one rule: there is no wrong answer.

Epic Stories (variant): The first player rolls all nine cubes and begins the adventure. Taking turns, each player adds a part of the story, taking inspiration from one of the cubes that haven't been used by a previous player. The last player must tie up all the loose ends and bring the story to its epic conclusion.
